Your Information
Your Rights
Our Responsibility

This notice describes how your health information may be used or disclosed and how you can get access to your information.

Please read, or have it read to you, carefully

Your Rights

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights. This section explains your rights and some of our responsibilities to help you.

Get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record

- You can ask to see or get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record and other health information we have about you. Ask us how to do this.
- We will provide a copy or a summary of your health information, usually within 30 days of your request.

Ask us to correct your medical record

- You can ask us to correct health information about you that you think is incorrect or incomplete. Ask us how to do this.
- We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days.

Request confidential communications

- You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, home or office phone) or to send mail to a different address.
- We will say “yes” to all reasonable requests.

continued on next page
• You can ask us not to use or share certain health information for treatment, payment, or our operations.
  ♦ We are not required to agree to your request, and we may say “no” if it would affect your care.

• If you pay for a service or health care item out-of-pocket in full, you can ask us not to share that information for the purpose of payment or our operations with your health insurer.
  ♦ We will say “yes” unless a law requires us to share that information.

• You can ask for a list (accounting) of the times we’ve shared your health information for six years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with, and why.

• We will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make).

• You can ask for a paper copy of this notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. We will provide you with a paper copy promptly.

• If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your health information.

• We will make sure the person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action.

• You can complain if you feel we have violated your rights by contacting us using the Privacy Officer’s information at the top of page 1.

• You can file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights by sending a letter to 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201, calling 1-877-696-6775, or visiting Filing a Privacy Complaint

• We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint.
Your Choices

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share. If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions.

In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us to:

- Share information with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care
- Share information in a disaster relief situation
- Contact you for fundraising effort

In these cases we NEVER share your information unless you give us written permission:

- Marketing purposes
- Sale of your information
- Most sharing of psychotherapy and substance use disorder notes

In the case of fundraising:

- We may contact you for fundraising efforts, but you can tell us not to contact you again.

Our Uses and Disclosures

How do we typically use or share your health information? We typically use or share your health information in the following ways.

Treat you

- We can use your health information and share it with other professionals who are treating you.
  \textit{Example:} A doctor treating you for an injury asks another doctor about your overall health condition.

Run our organization

- We can use and share your health information to run our practice, improve your care, and contact you when necessary.
  \textit{Example:} We use health information about you to manage your treatment and services.

Bill for your services

- We can use and share your health information to bill and get payment from health plans or other entities.
  \textit{Example:} We give information about you to your health insurance plan so it will pay for your services.

continued on next page
How else can we use or share your health information? We are allowed or required to share your information in other ways – usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We have to meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes.

| Help with public health and safety issues | • We can share health information about you for certain situations such as: |
|                                           |   ♦ Preventing disease |
|                                           |   ♦ Helping with product recalls |
|                                           |   ♦ Reporting adverse reactions to medications |
|                                           |   ♦ Reporting suspected abuse, neglect, or domestic violence |
|                                           |   ♦ Preventing or reducing a serious threat to anyone’s health or safety |
| Do research                               | • We can use or share your information for health research. |
| Comply with the law                      | • We will share information about you if state or federal laws require it, including with the Department of Health and Human Services if it wants to see that we’re complying with federal privacy law. |
| Respond to organ and tissue donation requests | • We can share health information about you with organ procurement organizations. |
| Work with a medical examiner or funeral director | • We can share health information with a coroner, medical examiner, or funeral director when an individual dies. |
| Address workers’ compensation, law enforcement, and other government requests | • We can use or share health information about you: |
|                                           |   ♦ For workers’ compensation claims |
|                                           |   ♦ For law enforcement purposes or with a law enforcement official |
|                                           |   ♦ With health oversight agencies for activities authorized by law |
|                                           |   ♦ For special government functions such as military, national security, and presidential protective services |
| Respond to lawsuits and legal actions    | • We can share health information about you in response to a court or administrative order, or in response to a subpoena. |
Health Information Exchange

- NSCH participates in the Massachusetts Immunization Information System (MIIS) – you can OPT OUT of sharing your immunization history with other healthcare organizations.

- NSCH participates in the Mass HIway and uses Direct Messaging (instead of mail or fax) to communicate with some providers about your care. Your health information is sent securely to the receiving provider when their address is in the Mass HIway system. No data is stored on MassHIway.

- Epic Care Everywhere – Providers involved in a patient’s care who use the Epic Electronic Health Record system can share information securely, once a patient grants consent. Information shared via Care Everywhere may include sensitive health information such as drug and alcohol abuse treatment or referral, mental health diagnosis and treatment, genetic testing, sexually transmitted illness diagnosis and treatment, and HIV/AIDS diagnosis and treatment. Patients may OPT OUT from their information being shared via Epic Care Everywhere.

- NSCH is an integrated Patient Centered Medical Home – Medical, Substance Use Disorder and Behavioral Health records are integrated.

- If you share your mobile phone number with us, we will only use it for purposes related to your healthcare, such as for appointment reminders or health campaigns reminding you of important care that may be overdue.

Our Responsibilities

- We are required by law to maintain the privacy and security of your protected health information.

- We will let you know promptly if a breach occurs that may have compromised the privacy or security of your information.

- We must follow the duties and privacy practices described in this notice and give you a copy of it.

- We will not use or share your information other than as described here unless you tell us we can in writing. If you tell us we can, you may change your mind at any time. Let us know in writing if you change your mind.
Changes to the Terms of This Notice

We can change the terms of this notice, and the changes will apply to all information we have about you. The new notice will be available upon request, in our office, and on our web site.

Effective Date: 3/14/17; Revised 4/1/24

This Notice of Privacy Practices applies to North Shore Community Health and all its locations.

Privacy Officer, Erin Grealy
erin.grealy@nschi.org, 978-825-1158